ABOUT CCDHB

The Nurse Entry to Practice Programme (NETP) accommodates NETP graduates both within the hospital and primary care settings. Central to Capital and Coast District Health Board (CCDHB) philosophy for continuing nursing education is the commitment to providing a supported learning environment. The NETP programme offered at CCDHB has recently been accredited by the Nursing Council of New Zealand.

We provide new graduate nurses the opportunity to join our organisation in making a difference to the health and wellbeing of the patients we serve.

Māori and Pacific population needs are a priority for this DHB and this is reflected in opportunities for nurses who identify as Māori or Pacific.

CCDHB has two NETP Programme intakes for graduate nurses per year in August and January.

These fixed term contracts are within practice areas that have protected positions for graduates and are 32 or 36 hours per week (depending on area)

As a teaching hospital, continuing nursing education is supported through the senior nursing team in your area, clinical load sharing and support from the NETP Coordinator and Victoria University Nurse Lecturer.
